

The diagnosis of ADHD is extremely complex and requires a detailed evaluation of physical, psychological and behavioural factors by trained healthcare professionals including:^{1,2}

To be diagnosed with ADHD, a child must have multiple symptoms of inattention or hyperactivity/impulsivity for at least 6 months.³