

Time to diagnosis facts

While some caregivers receive a fast and accurate diagnosis, many early efforts produce discouraging results, leading to greater frustration.

In Europe, it takes on average about two years to reach a diagnosis of ADHD.<sup>2,3</sup>

Many people consult with several physicians before receiving a diagnosis of ADHD.

Timely and effective management of ADHD can improve quality of life.<sup>1</sup>

DOCTOR

